MORE YELLOW FEVER

New Orleans' Board of Health Announces Six Cases.

PRESIDENT OLIPHANT NOT UNEASY.

He Says There Is No Great Occasion For Fear Unless the Condition of Affairs Grows a Great Deal Worse.

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—Yesterday afternoon the board of health officially declared six of the suspicious cases of fever on St. Claude street to be yellow fever. The board also announced another pronounced case of yellow fever at Miro and Esplanade streets, also in the lower part of the city, but a mile or more away from the infected square. The announcement of the first six cases of yellow fever was not unexpected, although it was hoped from the delay on the part of the experts that these were simply cases of bilious malaria. No general alarm has resulted here, although the news rapidly spread through the city. The authorities do not believe that the situation is materially worse than it was four or five days ago, and they are still confident of their ability, with modern sanitary appliances, successfully to quarantine the infected districts.

The official bulletin of the board of experts, declaring the St. Claude street cases to be yellow fever, was received by President Oliphant. Dr. Oliphant immediately sent for members of the press and gave out the report, which was signed by Drs. Lemonnier, Touatre, Bickham, Petit and Parham of the board of experts and Dr. Devron, the attending physician. The report was as follows:

"We the physicians who from time to time have examined the 12 cases of fever on St. Claude street, between Clouet and Louesa, find six to be yellow fever. Four of the patients are convalescent. There are no other cases."

The board of health adopted resolutions, saying:

"Since the board has been credibly informed that there have been cases of fever in Mobile that should be investigated and since the Mobile board of health has declined to acquiesce in our request to ascertain further data of the status at Mobile by sending a representative there and for sufficient reasons this board declares from and after Sept. 12 a rigid quarantine against the city of Mobile till further notice."

There has been considerable resentment here because Mobile was the first city to quarantine against New Orleans, refusing to receive even newspaper or letter mail.

These Are Practically Well.

Of the original 12 cases, all of which had their origin from a case that had come from Ocean Springs, the six other patients than those reported as having yellow fever were said to be almost well, up and walking about their homes. Of the six pronounced yellow fever, four are convalescent, and two were declared to be critically ill, one of these having suffered a relapse.

Among the suspicious cases reported was that of a boy named Roy, living at Miro and Esplanade streets. Drs. Lemonnier, Touatre and Matas were sent to make a careful observation of the case. They now pronounce it to be unquestionably yellow fever and as having apparently had its origin in Scranton, Miss., or in the vicinity of that town. As soon as the report was received the board of health took charge of the house, quarantined the inmates, placed guards so that no one might come within close proximity to the premises and set to work to thoroughly disinfect the neighborhood. A brother of the patient, who had left the premises some time before the official announcement, was given a permit to return, but orders were issued that under no circumstances to let him or any member of the household to again leave the premises. President Oliphant said:

"Of course I have made this announcement of the existence of seven cases of yellow fever in New Orleans with sincere regret, but there was no alternative left me, under my pledge to keep faith with the public here and elsewhere. I do not think, however, there is occasion here for serious alarm, unless conditions shall grow materially worse. We shall have to await developments.

"An earlier announcement of the diagnosis of the St. Claude street cases was not possible. The board of experts, which is composed of able, efficient and experienced physicians, had made repeated visits to these patients, but they insisted that they should be allowed their own time within which to make a complete diagnosis. They desired to be perfectly sure before pronouncing the sickness to be yellow fever. They reached a conclusion as soon as was practicable, and four days ago they warned the country that all of the 12 cases were suspicious.

President Oliphant Undecided.

"Personally I am unable to say whether or not these cases are of a mild or severe type. The absence of mortality would seem to indicate that they are in the former class. That there has been no spread would seem to strengthen that view. I have no reason to doubt, however, that the complete sanitation of the neighborhood instituted by the board and the rigid quarantine enforced has gone a long way toward restricting the disease to the St. Claude street square in which the cases originated, and I take hope from this fact that we shall still be able to confine the fever within its present limits. The situation is certainly no worse now than it was four or five days ago.

"With respect to the Miro and Esplanade street case, we are applying the same methods of sanitation and quarantine as in the St. Claude street cases, and in the case of young Geist wherein these methods were attended with excellent results, no new cases having appeared in either neighborhood.

"We have now had a total of eight cases and one death, the origin of all of which may be traced to the infected towns on the Mississippi coast. They may all be classed as importations.

"I see no occasion for panic in New Orleans. The general health of the city is good, and it is rapidly being put in fine sanitary condition. There is no present apprehension of an epidemic, and I have reason to hope that we shall continue to be masters of the situation."

A number of additional suspicious cases were afterward reported to the board of health. In each instance physicians were at once dispatched to investigate. Their reports have been uniformly that the suspicions were groundless. The force of physicians attached to the board of health has been largely increased, and the board is in communication with every section of the city.

Acting Mayor Britton and the members of the conference committee met the board of health and discussed the question of sanitation. It was reported that arrangements had been made with the waterworks company and with the large plants on the river front to furnish an ample supply of water.

Commissioner of Public Works McGerry said that he would add materially to his force and that in a few days the city would be in a cleaner condition than it has been for years. Assurances were given that the money required would be forthcoming to do all the work contemplated.

President Oliphant, soon after he got the report of the experts, wired Governor Foster, who had requested to be kept fully informed as to the situation and who is co-operating with the board. Dr. Oliphant also notified the railroad companies and others who had a special interest in the situation. The news was generally spread through Louisiana and the southern states, and it is probable that most of the towns that have not quarantined New Orleans will now refuse to have any communication with this city. The situation in this respect, however, will not be much aggravated, for the Crescent City has already been bottled up for several days. Dr. Oliphant says that dispatches were being prepared to be sent to the various boards of health of the country officially acquainting them with the situation.

Acting Mayor Britton fears some business injury of a temporary nature will result in the announcement of the existence of seven cases, but he does not think that the harm will be permanent or that anything has happened to justify an exodus from the city. "I have been through several epidemics and have therefore had some experience," said Mr. Britton. "Speaking advisedly, I do not see any reason why our people should become frightened or why they should care to leave town. The mere announcement of the presence of several cases of yellow fever here simply confirms an impression that has been existent since it was officially reported there were 12 suspicious cases. Six of these patients are nearly well. Four others are on the high road to recovery. Of the others, two are quite ill, but there is no immediate reason to believe either will die. We have successfully quarantined these cases, and until the sickness gets beyond control, which is not the case now, we might just as well stay here and fight it out."

Back From Ocean Springs.

Dr. Lehman, who has been at Ocean Springs for several days and is a yellow fever expert, has returned. Dr. Lehman participated with the medical experts on the coast in the diagnosis of several cases of fever there. He says: "I went over to Ocean Springs to attend the poor who might be suffering with yellow fever. After a most diligent search for any who might be suffering with that disease, answering a number of calls, investigating the condition of convalescents and seeing a few cases by courtesy of the attending physician I concluded that as no yellow fever existed my duties were over."

Dr. Lehman came direct from Ocean Springs here, having, however, to undergo a thorough fumigation of his clothes and effects. The board of health gave him the permission to come to this city. As there has since been considerable inquiry as to the right of a physician to come from an infected district without detention when the lay public is refused permission Secretary Patton of the board of health was asked for a statement. He said:

"It is the invariable rule in yellow fever epidemics to give the widest possible latitude to physicians traveling. They are presumed to understand thoroughly the scientific means usually employed to destroy germs about their person, in their clothes and among their effects. Generally they are successful in accomplishing this; hence, physicians rarely carry the infection from one point to another. But aside from this somebody with scientific knowledge must attend the sick, and if we are going to isolate the physicians simply because they have been in infected towns or in contact with yellow fever patients we might just as well sit down, fold our hands and let the plague have full swing."

A Very Bad Negro.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 13.—In Wardell county George Slaughter, a negro, criminally assaulted Mrs. Will Jones and was arrested by James Robinson, a colored deputy sheriff, who took him to Mrs. Jones for identification. When Mrs. Jones recognized him, Slaughter pulled his revolver and killed her and her husband and escaped before Robinson could interfere.

Death of an Editor.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 13.—William Bryan, editor of The Republican, a newspaper published here, died at his residence. He was 77 years of age. Mr. Bryan was a brother of Clark W. Bryan of Springfield, Mass. He was postmaster of Hudson from 1877 to 1885.

STORY OF ITS FALL.

CUBAN EXILES ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

It Is Said the Carlists In Spain Are Secretly Elaborating a Military Organization and Only Biding Their Time.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The official dispatch from Havana giving details of the fall of Victoria de las Tunas says:

The garrison of Victoria de las Tunas consisted of 350 men, of whom 135 were sick in the hospital. The place capitulated after an heroic defense. The commandant, with 3 officers and 25 men, marched out, taking with them the sick and wounded.

The insurgents fired cannon at the hospital, although the flag of the Red Cross society was hoisted over it at the time. Many of the wounded perished in the debris. The insurgents lost 100 killed.

Later details received by the government of the fall of Victoria de las Tunas show that the siege was begun by 5,000 insurgents on Aug. 14. The assault was repulsed, but on the 25th the insurgents began a cannonade with four guns, one throwing dynamite shells. On the 28th the fortifications were destroyed and the Spanish artillery dismantled.

The garrison was then compelled to capitulate, but a stipulation that they should be released was granted. Two messengers who had been dispatched by the garrison for assistance were hanged by the insurgents, who also shot a leading merchant of the town. Having garrisoned the place, the insurgents moved westward in the direction of San Pedro.

The above figures agree with those already published. It was then stated that the remainder of the troops of the garrison, who had previously laid down their arms, had been sent, it was believed, to Puerto Principe. According to the same dispatch, the surrender of the commandant, with his officers and the 75 men referred to in the official dispatch, was made on condition that they be allowed to retain their arms and horses and be sent to Holguin.

Victims of Spanish Cruelty.

New York, Sept. 13.—Among the passengers who arrived by the Anchor line steamer Scindia, Captain Blight, from Mediterranean ports, were two victims of Spanish cruelty from the island of Cuba, Juan Vivo and Albert Loper. Senor Vivo and about 125 other prisoners were deported by order of General Weyler to the Chafarinas islands as political prisoners, leaving Havana Dec. 30, 1896, on the steamer Santiago, Captain Emeterio, bound for Cadiz, at which port they arrived on Jan. 20 last and whence they were transported to the Chafarinas islands. Senor Vivo describes the treatment they received on their voyage to Cadiz on board the steamer Santiago as being brutal in the extreme, they being huddled together like animals in the lower hold of the steamer and heavily manacled, with scarcely any food, and that not fit for human beings to eat, and only two pails of water per day for 125 people. One of the prisoners, objecting to the food, was struck on the head by one of the attendants, from the effects of which he died next day and was immediately thrown overboard. On arriving at Cadiz, Vivo and several others were immediately sent to the Chafarinas islands. He was pardoned on King Alfonso XIII's birthday. He was released on the 22d of August last and was sent to Malaga, whence he made his way to Gibraltar, where, through the kindness and contributions of several merchants at that port, he was enabled to take passage to New York.

The Carlists on Watch.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The persistence of the belief that the Carlists are watching for an opportunity to take advantage of the present embarrassment of the government over Cuba as soon as this could be done without a display of unpatriotic motive is continually finding expression in the more independent and outspoken section of the Spanish press.

El Imparcial, in an article dealing with conflicting rumors now in circulation, declares that it has reliable authority for the statement that the Carlists are secretly establishing an elaborate military organization.

International Chess Congress.

Berlin, Sept. 13.—The chess congress of the Berlin Schach Gesellschaft was opened at the Architekten Haus, 92 and 93 Wilhelm strasse, in this city, when the committee announced that they had accepted the following 20 entries for the international tournament: S. Alapin, St. Petersburg; Ad Albin, Vienna; Curt Bardeleben, Leipsic; J. H. Blackburne, London; Amos Burn, Liverpool; H. Caro, Berlin; R. Charousek, Budapest; J. Cohn, Berlin; B. Englisch, Vienna; M. Janowski, Paris; G. Marco, Vienna; J. Metger, Kiel; E. Schiffers, St. Petersburg; C. Schlechter, Vienna; H. Suechting, Brackrade, Oldenburg; R. Teichmann, London; M. Tschigorin, St. Petersburg; C. A. Walbrodt, Berlin; S. Winawer, Warsaw; A. Zinki, Vienna.

Three Shocks In Five Minutes.

Mexico City, Sept. 13.—The meteorological observatory here has received news from San Carlos, Oaxaca, that three distinct earthquake shocks were felt there in the space of five minutes. No damage resulted.

Shot by a Burglar.

South Berwick, Me., Sept. 13.—Lewis Reverge, 23 years old, a clerk in his father's bakery, was shot through the thigh, not seriously, by a burglar.

THAT FATAL VOLLEY

Governor Hastings Busy Since the Lattimer Shooting.

HAZLETON IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

Though Warrants Are Out For Sheriff Martin's Arrest, General Gobin Says They Will Not Be Executed Just Now.

Harrisburg, Sept. 13.—The executive mansion has been the scene of much activity during the past 48 hours. Governor Hastings, Attorney General McCormick, Major General Snowden, Adjutant General Stewart and Private Secretary Beitler have been on duty almost constantly. A corps of messenger boys is stationed in the parlor to carry messages from the governor to the telegraph offices and the headquarters of the national guard. The executive mansion is connected by telephone with General Gobin's headquarters at Hazleton, and the governor is kept fully posted of every move of the troops and the striking miners.

Major General Snowden will remain at the executive mansion until after the funerals of the Lattimer victims. No further trouble is anticipated, but the governor has requested the major general to remain here until this evening in case of an emergency requiring his presence. Generals Snowden and Stewart may visit the soldiers' camp after the funerals. General Snowden is so well pleased with the admirable manner in which the troops are being handled by General Gobin that he will not interfere with his plans.

General Stewart has received from camp a blue print showing the location of the troops. At the same time he received a telegram from General Gobin stating that the troops are well quartered and have plenty of supplies. The general also telegraphed that there was no trouble, and he did not look for an outbreak.

Should the miners and operators adjust their differences at tomorrow's conference the troops, with the exception of a battalion of infantry and a troop of cavalry, will be withdrawn. The First brigade is still held in readiness, but it is thought here that all danger of another outbreak is passed and no more troops will be needed. Governor Hastings has abandoned his intended visit to the Blue mountains and will stay here until the troops are withdrawn.

Bitter Against Martin.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 13.—Nearly 4,000 members of the state militia are on duty in Hazleton and Lattimer, and their presence has prevented any outbreak on the part of strikers and citizens, who vigorously denounce the action of Sheriff Martin.

Warrants have been sworn out against the sheriff and all his deputies who took part in firing upon the strikers, the charge against them being murder. A citizens' committee has been appointed to raise money for their prosecution.

The bitter feeling against the officers has been intensified by the knowledge that all except five of the dead and wounded men were shot in the back while running away from the deputies.

The strike which led up to the slaughter has been practically settled, and the miners are expected to resume work early this week.

General Gobin declares that in spite of the warrants issued no constables or any civic authority will be permitted to arrest the deputies. He said that the sheriff is an executive officer, whose duty it is to preserve the peace, and that he, Gobin, and the troops are really subordinate to the sheriff at this time, being engaged in helping him to perform that duty. Under these circumstances he will not permit interference with the sheriff's officials so long as the militia is here. In spite of this fine distinction, the commander's decision on this point is accepted as superseding the civil authorities by the military power.

The events of yesterday were the death of another of the wounded, Jacob Tomashantas, an 18-year-old boy, who was shot through the head, and the announcement by the hospital doctors that six more will die.

The house of the engineer of No. 3 colliery of Coxe's mine was broken into by six masked men, and the engineer, who is a cripple, unmercifully beaten. There is no clew to the identity of the assailants. The only work the mine has been doing lately is the pumping necessary to free the mine from water.

General Gobin has received a formal report of the Audenreid outrage, when strikers broke into the house of Homer Jones, superintendent of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company. Jones, whose unpopularity with the miners was one of the first causes of the strike, was not there, but the men literally wrecked the interior of the house and then attacked a mine powerhouse near by and stole therefrom a quantity of dynamite. As soon as he heard of this General Gobin assigned a guard of the Thirteenth regiment to remain at Audenried.

Philadelphia Labor League's Censure.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—At a meeting of the United Labor league the question of the shooting of the miners near Hazleton by Sheriff Martin's deputies was brought up for discussion, and a number of speeches denunciatory of the action were delivered. Subsequently the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, In view of the deliberate assassination of 21 miners and the mortal wounding of a number of others, most of whom received their wounds in the back while fleeing from the majesty of the law, be it

"Resolved by the United Labor league of Philadelphia and its vicinity, That we feel that a crime has been committed in the name of law, and we hereby donate the sum of $25 for the prosecution of the offenders and further call on all affiliated bodies to contribute to their best ability for the same purpose."

Poles Under Arrest.

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 13.—Sheriff Smith has taken eight of the rioting Poles to the county jail at Clearfield and has three others under arrest. The foreigners were greatly excited when they learned their leaders were to be taken to jail. Threats of an attempt to rescue them were made, but the sheriff slipped away with his prisoners before any serious disturbance occurred.

AN UNLUCKY THIRTEEN.

Six Men Killed and Seven Injured In an Indian Territory Train Wreck.

Van Buren, Ark., Sept. 13.—A most disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Iron Mountain road at Hansom, I. T., a small station 20 miles west of Van Buren, yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of seven men and the serious injury of six others, two of whom will die.

The dead are William Fame, Charles Fame, Douglass Anderson, John Johnson, Bore Henderson, Frank Hamilton and H. A. Walton. The injured are George Coffman, Jack Jones, James Phillips, Robert Eubanks, Charles Pender and George Parker.

Of the wounded it is thought two will die, as they suffered internal injuries. All of the dead and wounded were sent to Vian with the exception of Walton's body, it being brought to this place, where relatives of his live. None of the trainmen was hurt. The wrecked train was a local freight from Coffeyville, Kan., to Van Buren. While the train was running at a speed of 20 miles an hour the forward trucks of one of the cars near the engine broke, wrecking 15 cars loaded with walnut logs and baled hay. With the exception of two cars in front and three cars in the rear, including the caboose, every car of the 20 composing the train was ditched. In the middle of the train was a car loaded with heavy machinery, and it was in this car that 13 men were stealing a ride and from which seven dead and six seriously wounded were taken by the trainmen shortly afterward.

It appears that the occupants of the wrecked car were a party of men and boys living in Vian, I. T., who were coming to Van Buren to find employment in the cotton fields. When the machinery car left the rails, it fell on its side, nearly all of the men being caught by the heavy beams. A car of logs was piled on top of the one in which the men were riding, and that any escaped instant death is but little short of a miracle. A message was sent to Trainmaster Walsh at this place by the train crew, and he immediately ordered out a wrecking crew, and, with Division Roadmaster McLeod, went to the scene of the wreck, taking with him Dr. Debrill, the company's local surgeon at this place. The first thing done was to extricate the dead and wounded, and on account of the heavy logs and machinery under which they were buried the task was a laborious one, and it was several hours before the last of the bodies was removed from the wreck.

A FATAL TYPHOON.

Ships Driven Ashore, One Wrecked and Ten Lives Lost.

Yokohama, Sept. 13.—A fierce hurricane swept over the city and harbor on Thursday night, causing severe floods, doing much damage to property and followed by considerable loss of life.

When the typhoon was at its height, the German warship Irene, the British ship Glenericht, Captain Davies, which reached Yokohama on July 21 from Port Gamble, and the British ship Lonsdale, Captain Fraser, which reached Yokohama on Aug. 22 from Antwerp, were driven ashore. All three have since been floated, with no serious damage to the Irene.

The Norwegian bark Alette, Captain Lorentzen, from Vancouver via Port Angeles, fell a victim to the fury of the gale and was wrecked off Nichisaki. Ten of her crew were drowned, and the six survivors were severely injured. There is a possibility of recovering a portion of her cargo.

The Alette was a double decker, built in 1879, and hailed from Drammen, Norway. She had a tonnage of 1,306 and was the property of J. Gullichsen.

A Daring Murder In Georgia.

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 13.—The story of the killing of Sam Parker, a well known citizen of Cecil, at Hahira by Shelton Dampier, shows it to have been one of the blackest crimes that has ever stained the criminal annals of this country. The story is that Parker was on his way to church and had stopped to talk to some gentlemen, Dampier being in the crowd. After a few minutes' conversation the crowd began to break up, and Parker, Dampier and the town marshal were left alone. Dampier drew his pistol at this juncture and putting it against the bosom of Parker fired one shot. The ball passed through Parker's heart, and he sank to the ground without a word, dying instantly. Turning to the marshal, Dampier waved his pistol in his face and defied him, threatening to kill him if he moved. The desperado then turned and walked away, making his escape. Every effort will be made, however, to capture Dampier and punish him for his crime. The cause of the tragedy is said to date back three years, when Dampier was prosecuted for stealing some meat from Parker.

Death of an American Woman.

Paris, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Antonio Terry, nee Grace Dalton Secor, of New York, died at her residence in this city. The cause of her death was cerebral congestion. She had returned to Paris from Treport about 10 days ago and was only ill a few days.

A Lynching In Georgia.

Macon, Sept. 13.—A murder was committed in this city, and the slayer, a negro, was lynched, not for murder, however, but for criminal assault.

THE MESA ESCANADA

Evidences of Prehistoric Life on the Mysterious Cliff.

THE RESEARCHES OF MR. HODGE.

An Agent of the Smithsonian Institute Scales the Enchanted Mesa In New Mexico and Brings Back Information of Scientific Value.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Mr. F. W. Hodge of the bureau of ethnology, Smithsonian institute, has just returned from an expedition to the Enchanted mesa of New Mexico, which has excited the interest of scientists and the daring of exploring parties. It was brought into prominence a few months ago by the expedition of Professor William Libbey of Princeton university, who took rope throwing mortars, huge kites, balloons and tons of apparatus to scale this hitherto inaccessible tableland. The purpose of the investigations has been to determine whether the summit of the mesa was at one time inhabited by the prehistoric Acoma Indians.

Professor Libbey reported no evidences of early occupancy. Mr. Hodges' explorations have brought good results, however, for after scaling the mesa he spent some time on the summit, found a number of fragments of pottery, arrows, shell bracelets, stone axes, etc., establishing conclusively that the top of the mesa was at one time inhabited.

Mr. Hodge was sent by the bureau of ethnology to examine a series of ruins in western New Mexico and to attend the snake dance of the Moki Indians.

This done, he was directed to proceed to the Enchanted mesa and scale its precipitous walls in any way he saw fit.

He procured an extension ladder, comprising six sections of six feet each, together with an ample supply of rope, and proceeded to the mesa on Sept. 3, accompanied by Major George H. Pradt, deputy United States surveyor at Laguna, N. M., who is familiar with that section; Mr. A. C. Vroman of Pasadena, Cal., who acted as photographer of the expedition; Mr. H. C. Hayt of Chicago, and two Laguna Indians.

The Height of the Mesa.

The mesa was determined to be 431 feet from the western plain to the top of the highest pinnacle above the cleft and the talus at the base of the cleft 224 feet above the plain. The climb was without any serious difficulty until the party reached a great sandstone. The ladders were hauled section by section to this point by means of the ropes, then fitted together and raised against the cleft. Mr. Hodge ascended to the top and, climbing over the slope immediately above, succeeded in lashing the top of the ladder to a huge bowlder that had fallen from above and lodged on the terrace some 20 feet from the summit. The ladder was then ascended by the remainder of the party and the top easily reached. The ascent consumed exactly 2¼ hours.

The explorers had not been on the summit of the mesa five minutes before Major Pradt picked up a fragment of ancient pottery, which indicated clearly that the mesa had been visited at any rate in former times and that Professor Libbey was mistaken in his conclusions.

During the afternoon and the next day Mr. Hodge examined the ground critically, while Major Pradt made a survey of the mesa and Mr. Vroman secured a number of photographs. Several potsherds, two stone axes (broken), a fragment of a shell bracelet and a stone arrow point were the chief evidences of former occupancy found on the narrow, storm swept crest, but abundant potsherds, etc., were found in the talus swept down from the summit. All vestige of the ancient trail ascending the talus and continued on the summit by hand and foot holes in the solid rock have been obliterated, but some traces of the holes remain. This verification of an Indian tradition notable for inherent evidence of accuracy is peculiarly gratifying to students of anthropology.

Mr. Hodge's report will arouse great interest among American ethnologists and archæologists, inasmuch as they are said to show that Indian tradition should not be dismissed as merely mythical after only casual exploration.

The Olive Pecker Tragedy.

New York, Sept. 13.—Captain Carnan of the Lamport & Holt line steamer Coleridge, which arrived from Brazilian ports, learned at Bahia, from which port the steamer sailed on Aug. 25, that the mutineers of the American schooner Olive Pecker would be sent home on the United States frigate Lancaster. The Lancaster was on her way home from Montevideo and had orders to call at Bahia to take on board and convey to the United States the Olive Pecker's crew, who are held prisoners at that port awaiting passage to the United States to be tried for murdering Captain Whitman and Chief Mate Saunders on the high seas during the voyage from Boston to Buenos Ayres.

Fatal Gas Well Explosion.

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 13.—A company of farmers drilled in a gas well near here. When gas was struck, a terrific explosion occurred, wrecking and burning the rig and burning nearly every one of the 50 men and boys about the derrick. The fatally burned are Daniel Mundell, Charles Lewis, a boy, and Jackson Bushong. William Mundell was dangerously burned.

DIED BY THE GARROTE.

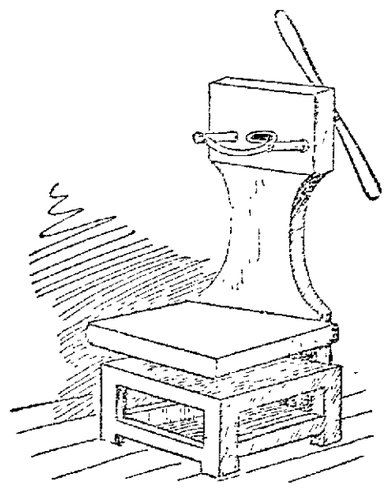
Golli Showed Iron Nerve When Confronted by Death—Something About the Machine Which Took His Life.

Michel Angiolillo, the assassin who killed Premier Canovas on the 8th of August at the Santa Agueda baths in Spain, was a man of iron nerve. This he especially displayed at his execution at Vergara. Though implored by the priests for hours before his death to repent of his crime, he turned a deaf ear to all their entreaties. He ascended the scaffold without a tremor, and showed his disregard for Christian consolation by turning to the back of his head the red cross on the front of the black cap that is placed on the heads of men doomed to die by the garrote. When he arrived at Vergara for trial he cynically remarked: "My Calvary has commenced. A priest will try to convert me, and the usual comedy will be gone through." On the scaffold his last word was "Germinal," the name given to the seventh month of the year by the red revolutionists in France. He requested the executioner to leave his face uncovered, and thus met death with the stoicism of an ancient Roman. Little is known of Angiolillo, except that he was a compositor in early life and that when he went to Santa Agueda on his mission of murder he represented himself as the correspondent of an Italian newspaper. When arrested he gave his name as Michel Golli. He had three sisters and two brothers living in Italy. He was of medium height, and wore a full beard and spectacles. Angiolillo was sentenced to imprisonment at Lucrera, Italy, for 18 months for anarchist offenses, but escaped from the prison there in 1895, and made his way to Barcelon, Spain. The execution of anarchists in that city for throwing a bomb into a religious procession prompted Angiolillo to kill Premier Canovas.

The garotte, on which Golli died, is named after its inventor, a Spanish



A SPANISH GARROTE.
(On One of These Machines Golli Was Executed.)

ironworker, who witnessed a bungling execution of a relative on the gallows, which was the method employed in Spain up to about 30 years ago for carrying out the sentence of death.

Garotte wondered that a more expeditious and, therefore, merciful method had not been discovered. He little thought then that he would be the one to furnish his country with a substitute for the gallows, but the thought haunted him so long that he at length found it assuming ordered form in his mind, and in time the ponderous death-dealing machine that has immortalized him in his country came to be a fact.

The two points of excellence claimed for the garrote are these: That it can be made with reasonable care to kill instantly and that it sheds not one drop of blood. Force that is measured by horse power is the agency it employs and its aim is the breaking of the victim's neck.

The unfortunate is first made to sit in a chair directly under two heavy iron bars, one of which is adjusted on the back of his neck and the other—vulgarly known as the corbatin, or necktie—under his chin. Then the executioner grasps the handle, gives a vigorous twist and death is instantaneous. The entire machine is made of iron and ordinarily weighs several hundred pounds. They are ordinarily of very rough construction, thus adding to the horrifying impression which the circumstances connected with them cannot leave in the mind of any observer.

Persons who have witnessed all sorts of capital punishment are unanimous in the opinion that garroting is the most revolting and appalling of all. It is not always as expeditious as its inventor made it possible to be. A vicious executioner can prolong it practically at will, and herein is the system's great drawback as it is now constituted. Cases are citable in which the process was prolonged 20, 30 minutes, even three-quarters of an hour. The executioner merely gave twist enough to the handle, or lever, to choke his victim. Then he turned it back and twisted again, this time a little more than the first, and so on until, his spite having been satisfied or his instructions perhaps obeyed, he gave one final turn and ended the tortured life. Such was the execution of Maloja in Matanzas, Cuba, in 1888.

Mission Work in Turkey.

In Turkey the American board of foreign missions (Congregationalists) began work 73 years ago. During this period it has sent to that country 700 missionaries and expended on their maintenance more than $8,500,000. At present it has in the field a staff of 176 missionaries, of whom 100 are preachers, and connected with the board are 125 churches with 12,787 members and an aggregate adherence of 30,000.

Fierce Quarrel Among Finns.

West Barnstable, Mass., Sept. 13.—A quarrel among Finns in a boarding house near the brickyard where a number of laborers of this nationality live resulted in three men being shot and two stabbed. Liquor caused the trouble, and the mix up was general. One of the men was shot in the face, and he is thought to be in a critical condition. The man who did the shooting ran away, and the local police, being unable to straighten out the trouble or get at the facts, have sent for State Officer Letteney.

Two Old Ladies Fatally Burned.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 13.—Two maiden sisters, Miss Harriet C. Sheldon, 82 years of age, and Miss Matilda Sheldon, 86, were accidentally burned to death at their home, 56 Cedar street. The Sheldon sisters had lived together in the same house all their lives, and their parents lived there for years before them. About 50 years ago they conducted a private school, in which they gave tuition to children of the best families in this city.

Tompkins' New Store.

NO. 8 EAST MAIN STREET.

Great and extraordinary sale of Dress Goods, Silks and Winter Underwear, beginning Monday, Sept. 13th, and continuing for one week. On Tuesday, Sept. 14th, the great Orange County Fair begins at Middletown and will continue for four days. You have had a hard season's work, take a day off, bring your wife and children along and have a day of pleasure at the Orange County Fair and combine business with pleasure. You need Dry Goods, Clothing and Shoes. Nowhere can you find such an assortment and such low prices as at Bright, Busy, Wide-awake Middletown, and particularly in Dry Goods. Nowhere can you find such remarkably low prices as at Tompkins' New Dry Goods Store. We have made a great special effort for Fair week, both because we want to and because we have to. Before the advance in prices, caused by the new tariff, we bought big lots of Dress Goods, Silks and Winter Underwear, and our store is packed to the ceiling. We find that we have bought more goods than we can dispose of this season through the regular channels of business, so have decided to give the public a big slice of these goods during Fair week at practically what they cost us, to reduce this big, unwieldly stock to proper proportions. Positively none of these goods will be on sale at these prices until Monday, Sept. 13th.

SCHEUTZEN CORPS HOODOOED.

Accidents Follow Their Sunday Trips in This Vicinity.

The New York Central Scheutzen Corps, a company of German marksmen and their families, arrived in this city on the O. and W. at 2:45, Sunday, on their way to Kiamesha Lake.

On the arrival of the train here the ambulance was in waiting, and Leo. Shurr, a member, was assisted from the smoker. He had fallen from the train and received severe scalp wounds and bruises of the side and hands. The accident occurred near Cranston's, while Shurr was assisting two ladies to pass from one car to another. The train was running at the rate of forty-five miles an hour, and as it whirled around one curve only to take a reverse curve, Shurr was thrown to the south bound tracks.

Dr. Hulett attended the unfortunate man and to-day he is doing as well as could be expected.

He lives at 689 Ninth avenue, near Forty-eighth street, and it is expected that some of his friends will be here, to-day.

The train was a special of nine cars and carried 244 passengers, including a brass band. It stopped here for a short time for lunch at Secholzer's. The party went to Kiamesha Lake, driving from Fallsburgh. They will return to-morrow night.

Last year during a similar trip to Liberty a woman became a mother on the train, and on reaching Liberty a member dropped dead. Just before starting home Capt. Mercer, the leader of the corps, fell from a porch and broke his leg

NICK MEOLA IN TROUBLE.

Arrested in Walton on a Charge of Petit Larceny.

From the Walton Reporter.

Nick Meola, of 84 Cottage street, Middletown, and his "partner," were gathered in by Officer Lyon, Thursday, on the charge of petit larceny. Signor Meola, as his name indicates, is a native of sunny Italy, and for some time past has followed the lucrative and diverting occupation of a scavenger and dealer in old junk. A day or two ago he made a visit to High street, and after he left Grandma Denham missed her copper boiler and also a kettle used in dyeing. Meola afterward visited Judson Burrell's place, on Howell street, and began to investigate in the back yard, and soon after a copper reservoir to the kitchen stove was missing.

ANOTHER 1804 DOLLAR.

Sold for $50 in Matteawan—Sub-Treasury Say It Was Coined in 1801.

Two Matteawan men recently purchased what they supposed was a dollar of the coinage of 1804. The seller was a "farmer," who had been told that the coin, which he said had been paid him with other money, was of great value, but hadn't time to fool with such things and would take almost any reasonable offer. The purchasers, when told that many 1804 dollars had been sold this year, took the coin to New York and had it examined by sub-treasury experts, who said it was a dollar of the coinage of 1801, the "1" having been cleverly changed to a "4." The purchasers are out $49, having paid $50 for the coin.

A CHILD'S LONG JOURNEY.

Travels from Finland to Alaska Unable to Speak English.

Traveling from Finland to Alaska without speaking a word that anyone understood, without a single traveling companion, or without meeting a person who knew him from one end of the journey to the other, is no small undertaking, but it has just been completed by an eight-year-old boy, says the Seattle Times. Magnus Nessler left a pleasant home in far-away Finland on June 3 to join his father and mother, who are working at Douglas City. He made his long journey across the great pond in the steerage of one of the big ocean steamers. Here he was not so lonely, as there were other Finlanders on the boat who talked the language he could understand. At New York there was no delay, owing to a carefully-written shipping card which had been sewed securely on the back of his coat before he started on the long journey. This did away with the necessity of talking as far as his getting through without delay was concerned. His ticket had been purchased to cover the entire distance, and he was directed him to Circle City by way of Juneau. He reached Seattle in time to make good connections with the Alaska boat, and was forwarded to Douglas by friends. His father and mother have not seen him since he was a baby over seven years ago, when they left Finland to come to the United States.

Magnus is a well-built boy, with hair and eyes characteristic of his race. He is exceptionably bright, and has already picked up some English. He made friends with everybody on the steamer with whom he came in contact, although he could only talk to them by signs.

"GIVE ME ANOTHER GOURDFUL."

Last Heard Words of a King Who Had Been Drunk Fifteen Years.

In other lands there are drinks far beyond ours in strength and strangeness, says the Chicago Times-Herald. There is the Russian vodki, for instance. A gill of it poured down a Carthagenian mummy will set that long dead person to fighting all his Punic battles o'er again. In the forceful language of the west: "Two drinks of it will make a man go home and steal his own pants." The West Indian gets from the cocoanut clear pure water, toddy and arrack, which is a rock-splitting brandy. Of their toddy Boyle says "it looks like skim milk and smells like 500 slaves in a pen." The Marquesans have a seductive drink called aroo. A number of young boys sitting in a circle chew fresh cocoanut and when it is sufficiently masticated expectorate it into a bowl that is the common receptacle. Fresh water is poured upon this delectable mixture and it is allowed to ferment. The South Sea islanders prepare the ava root in the same way. Paul du Chaillu once found a wonderful drunkard in the person of the king of Olenga-Yombi. When he was an infant his father would take him to the top of a small tree and force him to drink palm wine, until he came to prefer it to his mother's milk. It was the ingenious parent's ambition to make him the champion boozer of equatorial Africa, and he succeeded. The king of Olenga-Yombi in Du Chaillu's time had been solidly drunk for 15 years, and when last heard from was calling loudly for another gourdful.

PENSION VOTED TO A HORSE.

Oregon Fire Commissioners Retired a Faithful Equine Servant.

The board of fire commissioners has decided that the big bay horse Jerry, which has faithfully served the city in the fire department for 17 years, and is now 23 years of age, shall be given his time for the remainder of his days and be a pensioner on the city, says the Portland Oregonian. This horse and his mate were purchased by the city in the days of the volunteer fire department, to draw ladder truck No. 1, and for several years they did this work, which is now considered a pretty heavy job for the three horses attached to the truck. When the paid department was organized Jerry became a member of it, and has discharged his duties faithfully ever since. He is now entitled to be considered "aged," having served longer than the usual span of life allotted to horses, and the commissioners do not feel inclined to sell him for a trifle to some one who will perhaps starve and abuse him, and render the remainder of his life uncomfortable, so they have decided that he is to have free hay and oats at the expense of the city as long as he lives.

The White House.

The steady growth of the nation has rendered necessary a great expansion of the capitol at Washington, but nothing has been done to increase the size of the white house, says the Washington Post. The latter remains as it was when first occupied by President John Adams, at the beginning of the present century. Its narrow quarters have caused a vast amount of embarrassment to its tenants from time to time. For example, when the prince of Wales was here the utmost difficulty was found in making room for him and a few persons of his immediate suite, even when a part of the office quarters was utilized for sleeping purposes. There is an urgent demand for more rooms for the entertainment of distinguished guests of the nation on such exceptional occasions.

Novel Sport in France.

The running of auto-mobiles, or horseless vehicles, has become a national sport in France, and clubs devoted to it have been formed in the larger cities. One of the sights along the French roads this summer will be the addition of many motor wagons to the great number of bicycles.

Solid Food for Infants.

In France it is a punishable offense for anyone to give infants under one year any form of solid foods unless such be ordered by written prescription signed by a legally qualified medical man.

CAPRICES OF FASHION.

Some Timely and Useful Suggestions for Women's Wear.

Many of the new cheviots are woven loosely like canvas, in mixtures, checks, stripes and plaids, in heather and other color medleys.

Mohair moire velours is a new fabric with the gloss usual to mohair and will develop very satisfactorily.

Roses and violets are in harmony, as always, on a large hat of velvet chiffon disposed in rows of tiny puffings in the brim. At each side the chiffon is accordion-plaited and formed in a rosette and at the left side, in addition to the rosette, are flowers that seem veritable garden blooms.

In ecru and twine-colored heavy point Venise and Russian laces are shown motifs representing single flowers or graceful branches, for decorating revers, yokes, jackets and other new sories.

Graduated straps suggesting frogs are shown in the heavy laces, and these would produce a most interesting effect on a military basque or an Eton jacket of red or marine blue canvas.

Nun's veiling is very like the moire canvas in weave, and its revival will be welcomed by many who remember its former vogue. A hemstitched hem is woven as a border in the new nun's veiling.

Double-faced Venetian suiting is a light-textured fabric, though of close weave. It is appropriate for outing and traveling suits. The under side is of a tone contrasting with the surface, which it slightly tinges. Thus, to an olive green Venetian a rosy tinge is imparted by an old rose under surface. Blue and green, brown and green, cadet and red and purple and green are similarly mingled in other specimens.

Rob Roy and Tam O'Shanter caps made of flexible mixed straw plateaus in mixed or plain colors and simply trimmed with a knot of straw net and mottled quills, or with quills or wings without the net support, are worn awheel. These caps are lighter than felt Alpine or Derby hats and are perfectly adapted to the purpose, both from a practical and an ornamental aspect.—The Delineator.

Very Large Peaches.

Ira L. Case picked, this morning, from a tree in his yard on Houston avenue, four peaches which weighed forty ounces. The largest one measured 10¾ inches in circumference. There were many peaches on the tree as large as those which were weighed. The peaches are seedlings, the tree having grown from a pit thrown into the garden several years ago. The peaches are of extra fine quality.

TO CURE DYSPEPSIA.

A New Remedy Which Will Do It.

Chronic dyspepsia is considered by many people to be nearly if not quite incurable. No good reason can be given why they think so except that perhaps they have tried various remedies without much, if any benefit But the progress in every branch of medicine has been such that among other things a lasting cure for indigestion, in its chronic form as well as temporary has been discovered and is now placed before the public strictly on its merits as a permanent cure for all stomach troubles or difficulties with the digestive organs.

This new treatment is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, being put up in tablet form so as to be easily taken and also to to preserve its good qualities for an indefinite length of time.

This remedy has produced surprising effects in the worst forms of indigestion, and in many cases where ordinary remedies failed to give even relief, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have fully cured.

The splendid results from using this preparation are owing to the fact that it is prepared and intended for dyspepsia and stomach troubles only. It is not a cure-all like so many advertised remedies, claiming to cure every thing under the sun, but it is claimed that it is a certain cure for dyspepsia and anyone suffering from any form of indigestion cannot fail to get permanent relief and cure from its use.

It is so prepared and the ingredients are of such a nature that when the tablets are taken into the stomach they digest the food no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. You get sustenance and strength to mind and body by reason of the food being properly digested and at the same time the much abused stomach is allowed to rest and recuperate.

Notwithstanding the great benefits to be derived from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the price is but 50 cents for full sized package and all druggist sell them.

HOW IT SPREADS.

People Are Talking All Over Middletown—This Report Comes from Roberts Street.

How it spreads.
Can't keep a "good thing" down.
Ever notice how good things are imitated?
Better the article, more imitators.
Fortunately the people have a safeguard.
Praise can't be imitated.
And true praise takes root and spreads.

Claim is what the manufacturer says.
Proof is what the people say.
Middletown people say.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys
Cure all kidney ills.
Hundreds of citizens testify to this.
Here is a case in point.

Mrs. C. H. Coleman, of the Columbus Hotel, No. 46 Roberts street, says:—"Kidney disease runs in our family. I have been troubled for the past six years myself but the greater quantity of Doan's Kidney Pills I bought at J. E. Mills' drug store were for my mother and one of my brothers. Backache so severe I could not stand it, and too stubborn to be affected by plasters, home remedies or physicians' prescriptions, clung to me most of the time. I have left my bed late at night and gone to a doctor's, begging him for relief. I could not wait until he was sent for. Urinary trouble set in. The deposit alarmed me. My general health was impaired and I consider myself lucky in being induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills. It was only a few days when I got relief and in five or seven more my trouble had disappeared. When they cured me so promptly I immediately sent some to my mother, who lives at Glenwild, Sullivan county. Her farm adjoins the Sullivan County Club House. The first box I sent her did her so much good that she made me send her some more. I have sent some to my sister who has the same symptoms as I, but at present I cannot speak positively about her or my brother. I can about Doan's Kidney Pills. No words of mine can express my opinion. They are easy to take, leave no disagreeable after-effect and go right for the kidneys."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50 Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for United States. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale by all dealers.

Remember the name Doan's, and take no substitute.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

L. Wagner, wholesale druggist, Richmond, Va., says: "I had a fearful attack of sciatic rheumatism, was laid up almost two months; was fortunate enough to get Mystic Cure For Rheumatism. This cured me after doctors' prescriptions had failed to have any effect. I have also heard of fine results from others who have used it." J. E. Mills, Druggist, No. 2 Empire Block, North street, Middletown, N. Y.

The "bicyclists best friend" is a familiar name for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, always ready for emergencies. While a specific for piles, it also instantly relieves and cures cuts, bruises, salt rheum, eczema and all affections of the skin. It never fails. W. D. Olney.

JUDICIARY CONVENTION.

Whereas, at the Judiciary Convention of the Democratic party, held in and for the Second Judicial District, at the Court House, in the city of Brooklyn, N. Y., on the 25th day of September, 1896, it was unanimously resolved that the Chairman and Secretary of said convention be authorized to call the next Judiciary Convention of said district, and to effect its organization as temporary officers.

Now, therefore, by virtue of said authority, the undersigned do hereby call a Judiciary Convention of the Democratic party in and for the Second Judicial District, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Brooklyn, N. Y., on the 29th day of September, 1897, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Justice of the Supreme Court, in place of Mr. Justice Willard Bartlett, to be voted for at the ensuing general election.

Dated September 10th, 1897.
ARTHUR C. SALMON, Chairman.
JOHN W. LYON, Secretary.

The Nebraska Populists are not all uncertain as to the cause of the prosperity which their State is now enjoying, and they embodied in their platform the following sturdy and outspoken declaration: "We are thankful to Providence rather than to any man for the measure of prosperity with which our State has been blessed, and we attribute the rise in wheat to foreign scarcity rather than suppose it to be the result of dear sugar or an increased tariff on straw."

The Democratic State Committee which will meet at the Hoffman House, Wednesday, to nominate a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, is divided in opinion as to the best plan of campaign. Some members think that the committee should make the canvass on national issues by reaffirming the Chicago and Buffalo platforms, while others hold that it is the part of wisdom to make the campaign on State issues, believing that the rescue of the State from the notorious maladministration and reckless extravagance of the Republican party in the administration of its affairs is platform enough for Democrats of all shades of opinion and for thousands of Republicans as well. Whatever action the committee takes must be accepted by the party as embodying its best judgment as to wise party policy. The earnestness and loyalty of all the members of the committee to the Democratic party and its candidates were proven in last fall's campaign, and whatever is done at Wednesday's meeting, will certainly be done with but one object in view,—the strengthening of the Democratic position and the insuring of Democratic victory.

BURYING THE VICTIMS.

Authorities Make Every Effort to Preserve Order — Miners Overawed by Troops.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

HAZELTON, Sept. 13—The authorities realized the gravety of to-day's situation and prepared to prevent the possibility of an outbreak at the funerals of the miners killed by Sheriff Martin's deputies.

The troops were assigned in such a way as to cover all the territory possible and strict discipline was preserved, all permits to pass the lines having been revoked. The liquor saloons were ordered closed until after 4 p. m.

Gen. Gobyn assured the priests and miners that a funeral procession with all the national show of mourning would be permitted but no demonstration to show strength.

Miners from outlying districts arrived in large numbers. The streets are crowded and there is much excitement but the authorities are hopeful that order will be preserved. The crisis is not, however, over.

LAID AT REST.

Funerals of Two Children Held Sunday Afternoon.

The funeral of Charles William Mullins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mullins, was held, yesterday afternoon, from his parents' home on Ogden street. The casket was borne to the cemetery by the following members of St. Aloysis Society: Aloysius Donovan, John Glnne, Joe Precor and James Steele. Flowers were sent by the following to whom and other friends the bereaved parents return thanks Misses Mamie Morgan, Mamie Killeen, Mamie Nevils, Maggie and Bridget Sweeney, Kate Mulhern, Louise Mosher, Ella M. Hess, Mrs. E. O. Luddington, Mrs. John Fallon, Mrs. George Kablein, cut flowers: George Killeen, Mrs. John Wasser, sprays of tea and white roses: Mrs. M. J. Doran, spray: William Gray, spray and cut flowers; Mrs. James Regan, pillow.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon over the remains of Jimmie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Irwin.

Four boys acted as pall bearers: Harvey Arnoys, Harry Wilson, Arthur Loder, Wilbur Brown.

Floral offerings were from the following: Willie, Robert, Christopher, Gertie, and Maggie Smith, Blanche Sitzer, Mrs. George Scott, Mrs. Royce, Mrs. Heath, May Osborn, B. F. Stevens, Mrs. L. Bond and Estella Bond. Dr. Wilson officiated. Interment in Hillside.

FOR PICKLING FRUITS, our Extract Cloves and Extract Cinnamon are far superior to the Crude Spices. Why?

Because the Crude Spices darken the fruit and make it unsightly, while all the delicate color and brightness of the fruit is retained when our Extracts are used.

Ask your grocer for McMonagle & Rogers' Extract Cloves and Extract Cinnamon, or come direct to us if your grocer hasn't it.

WHY ELSIE S. LOST THE RACE.

E. H. Harriman's Entry Was Poisoned Before the $7,500 Colt Stake Race at Goshen — New York Health Board Chemist Certifies to the Presence of Strychine in Her Excrements — Full Investigation to be Made.

From Our Goshen Correspondent.

Since the great two-year-old stake race for $7,500 at Goshen during the meeting of the Orange County Circuit there have, at various times, been published in certain county papers statements concerning the event, commenting on the defeat of Mr. Harriman's horse, Elsie S These statements in some instances are practically insinuations, reflecting on Elsie S.'s driver, Ira S. Ryerson, in greater or less degree, giving to local horsemen the impression that Mr. Ryerson had not properly looked after the colt and had driven her so fast on Wednesday, when she made a half mile track record for two-year-olds, that she was not in condition to repeat or better the performance. Saturday. Many horsemen have held this belief.

The fact of the matter, though not generally understood, is this: that on Thursday the horse was taken ill and to Mr. Ryerson's mind showed symptoms of poisoning.

Although uncertain, he forwarded for analysis some droppings of the animal to Dr. Ernest T. Lederle, the New York city Board of Health chemist. The doctor's analysis showed that the excrement contained strychnine, and a certificate has been returned to Mr. Ryerson to that effect.

This news, while it is deplored by all lovers of fair sport as showing a depth of baseness from which horse racing in Orange county has fortunately been free, is not without a gratifying feature, since it clears the name of as good a driver as ever sat behind a horse on the historic Goshen track.

Ryerson says that had Elsie S. been in condition, as she would have been had not the poison been administered, she could have stepped the track in 2:21.

Great indignation prevails where the circumstances are known, and should the investigations under way reveal the perpetrator he will long regret his dastardly deed.

ERIE EMPLOYES COMING.

Will Hold a Bake at Midway Park Next Sunday Afternoon.

W F Wilson, Erie agent at Paterson, C. T. Wright, president of the Common Council of that city, and J. R. Jackson, a committee representing the Erie employes who are to hold a clam bake at Midway Park, Sunday next, were in town, Sunday, to complete arrangements.

They informed Capt. Totten that they had sold 140 tickets at one dollar each, and this would constitute their party. They agreed that Capt. Totten might sell a few at the same price. The bake will be served at 2 o'clock.

BOTH LEGS OFF.

John Fagan, a Sailor, Meets With an Accident at the "Hogback."

Saturday night, between 7 and 8 o'clock, John Fagan, a New York sailor, was walking the Erie tracks at the "Hogback," when a freight engine struck him, passing over both of his legs. He was brought to this city and taken in the ambulance to Thrall Hospital by Dr. Schultz.

To-day Fagan is resting comfortably. He is sixty years of age and his former home was in Liverpool.

Want to Attend Normal School.

From the Independent Republican.

Amonog those who have made application to enter the New Paltz Normal School are the following from Orange county: Pine Bush, Elizabeth B. Crawford, Augusta Crawford, Mabel Gray; Middletown, Emma C. Taylor, Anna McCrea, ——— Williams; Walden, Eva Follet; Newburgh, Helen G. Ruttenber, Annie I. Ryan; Minsink, D. C. Hallock, Jr.; Leprondale, Eleanor Brown; Highland Falls, Frances Adolph.

An Unlucky Combination.

Thirteen prisoners were taken from the Goshen jail to the County Court at Newburgh, to-day. Among them was a colored woman. Thirteen prisoners going to their trials on the 13th of the month is a combination of unlucky numbers that may well make the superstitions among the prisoners fear the result of this week's term of court.

Horse and Wagon Stolen at Walker Valley.

Capt. Veber received a postal card, this morning, from W. T. Wallace, of Pine Bush, requesting him to look out for a dark chestnut sorrel mare, sixteen hands high, black buckboard wagon, yellow running gear. The rig was stolen from Walker Vally, Saturday night.

The Orange County Horse Show.

The Orange county horse show, to be held on the Goshen Driving Park, Oct. 1 and 2, bids fair to surpass in interest any of its predecessors. The prize list has been most carefully arranged and cannot fail to bring out a large number of horses of fine breeding and handsome appearance.

High Prices for Cows.

Cattle buyers are numerous in Delaware county and are paying from $40 to $50 for springers. With milk at the price it is, it does not seem possible for farmers to buy cows at prices now prevailing and stand any chance of getting a fair return.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

A House Struck on the Shawangunk Mountain and Its Occupant Seriously Injured.

During the shower of Tuesday afternoon lightning struck the house of James Lundy, on the Shawangunk Mountain in Montague, N. J., four miles from Port Jervis. Mr. Lundy, who lives alone, was sitting near the kitchen stove and the lightning followed the stove pipe down the stove, from which it leaped to Mr. Lundy, striking him on the left thigh and passing down his leg into the ground.

A purple mark all the way down from the hip to the foot shows the course of the lightning, and the flesh was badly blistered in spots. Holes were burned in his trousers and the boot, which was a new one, was split from the instep to the toe, and the sole was torn from the uppers and was left fastened only by the heel.

Holes were burned in the stove pipe and the zinc under the stove was riddled as if by shot, and one large hole was the size of a bullet. One leg of the table was shattered and the drawer containing the silverware was torn in pieces and the knives, forks and spoons were blackened. The dishes on the table were broken, together with the lamps and other articles. The table stood six feet from the table.

Mr. Lundy was unconscious for half an hour and then started for a neighbor's. He was able to go but part way, but his shouts for help were heard. His leg is badly swollen and his foot is turning purple and blood poisoning is feared.

New Arms for the National Guard.

The National Guard of the State will be re-armed with the Springfield rifle and carbine by Oct. 1st, all of the details of the exchange with the U. S. Government having finally been arranged. Twenty-one organizations in the State will receive direct from the Chief of Ordnance of the U. S. Army the required number of rifles, woven cartridge belts and rounds of amunition. The belts now worn by the members of the guard will be turned in to the Chief of Ordnance, together with cartridge belts and bayonet scabbards.

Bad Weather Outlook for Fair Week.

—A chain gang of about a dozen persons, including one colored woman, left Goshen on the Orange County Express for trial at Newburgh, this morning.

—Fred B. Hock has resigned the management of the Goshen Base Ball Club and Daniel Kieran has been appointed his successor.

—A young Goshen man now residing in New York city and who often spends Sunday in town is engaged to be married to a young lady in Albany. The event will take place about a year hence.

—Chas. F. Myers starts on his vacation to-day.

SAILING ON THE OLIVETTE.

A Middletown Party Spends a Pleasant Day on the Hudson.

Dr. and Mrs. McBrair, Misses Nettie Beakes, Emilie Phillips and Fannie Corwin, and G. H. Iseman, T. E. Hayes and F. S. Rogers, who went to Newburgh to enjoy the fresh breezes of the Hudson in a moonlight sail, Saturday night, found the breeze so fresh and the water so high that the sail was postponed. The party had, however, a most delightful sail up the river, yesterday, to Poughkeepsie, where they had dinner. They returned in the afternoon and came to this city on the O. and W.'s night express from Cornwall.

A CROSBYVILLE FIRE.

BY GEORGE ADE.

ON THE evening of the alarm of fire at the florist's place, three doors from the Alfalfa European hotel, "Doc" Horne told of his singular experience at a fire in the town of Crosbyville.

"Let's see—I spent two or three years in Crosbyville, off and on," he began, "and this must have happened in the fall of '51 or in the spring of '52. I remember that I left Crosbyville just about the time of the presidential campaign, and that was—well, it must have been about June, '52. No matter; the date doesn't make any difference.

"In order that you may understand this story better I'll have to go back a little. The first time I ever visited in Crosbyville I was invited out to a shooting match. We didn't shoot at glass balls or live pigeons in those days. We usually put a white square of paper up against a tree and blazed away at it with rifles, and, although our firearms were of defective bore, I can assure you that some of the best shooting I ever saw was at those old-time matches out in the woods. However, that has nothing to do with the story.

"One of my friends invited me to go to the shooting match, and after I got out there I was asked to enter the contest. Well, I went in and I happened to get a rifle that sighted just right for me, and I won. A man who had been introduced to me as Capt. Jaynes made the next highest score. It seemed to me that the other contestants took their defeat good-naturedly, but on the way home my friend told me to look out for this Capt. Jaynes. He was a hot-headed Kentuckian, and it seems that this was the first time he had been defeated in a year or so, and it worried him a good deal. My friend told me that he had taken a dislike to me and would probably try to pick a quarrel with me at the first opportunity.

"Well, that same afternoon I invited all the men who had been at the shooting match to come over to the tavern. It was customary for the winner of the match to stand treat to the others. Capt. Jaynes came in rather late, while we were all sitting around and talking. I arose and asked him to join the party. He bowed very coldly, and said that he was not in the habit of drinking with strangers. Well, I was pretty hot-blooded in my younger days. I said: 'Very well, captain; I withdraw the invitation. I made the mistake of supposing that you would feel at home in a company of gentlemen.' I knew what to expect when I said that. He started to draw a knife, but before he could lift it I had hold of him. They pulled us apart and tried to quiet him, but he went away raving mad. They all said he would kill me the first time we met, but he must have cooled down when he had time to think it over. I saw him often after that—passed him on the street. He never made a move, but I knew that he hated me and would be glad of a chance to do me an injury.

"The captain's house was right on the bank of the Green river, and stood near his mill. It was an old-fashioned two-story house, very broad and well built, and thickly surrounded by trees. It was considered the best house in Crosbyville. The captain was the wealthiest and one of the most prominent citizens of the town. He was a widower and had two children—a boy of 14 or so, and a young lady named Elizabeth. She was a very beautiful girl—very charming. I had met her several times, but, of course, I had never become well acquainted with her on account of my standing feud with her father.

"Well, to make a long story short, the whole town was aroused by an alarm of fire one night, and when we turned out the Jaynes' mill was one mass of flames. It was an old-style structure, with a framework of heavy logs, and it made a fearful blaze. The wind was blowing the flames toward the house. Everyone saw that it was of no use to try to save the mill, so we turned in to save the house—got up on the roof and passed buckets, and put out wet blankets to catch the sparks, but it was no use. The men were driven off the roof, and the water dried as fast as it was thrown on. All at once one whole side of the house seemed to spring into a flame. There was a general shout, and everybody retreated to a safe distance. The members of the family and the neighbors had been removing the household goods. Just as the house caught fire and all the men were getting out of it as fast as they could I heard Elizabeth Jaynes cry out: 'The canary!' Then she ran back into the house, with everyone calling to her to stop. I didn't hesitate a moment, but ran after her. She ran through the terrific heat and dense smoke right up the stairway, and I followed. I caught her by the arm at the top of the stairs and told her to come back. She was hysterical and excited. She said she wouldn't leave until she got the bird. In spite of all I could do she pulled away from me and ran into the front room—her bedroom, I believe—and felt her way to where the bird cage was hanging. Gentlemen, it was never any hotter in any bake oven than it was in that room. As soon as she got the bird cage I dragged her back through the hall. The smoke was not so thick now because the fire had got a free draught through the house and was making a fearful roar and was spreading rapidly. When we reached the stairway the whole lower end of it was ablaze. I dragged the girl away to the front window, but by that time the whole veranda was on fire. The crowd outside saw us, and shouted something—I couldn't tell what. I saw that there was no escape over that burning veranda. When the people outside began to shout the girl fainted. I threw her across my shoulder and started for the rear of the house, because I knew that was my only salvation. The whole stairway was ablaze by that time, and flames were creeping up through the floor. I closed my lips tightly, and in about four leaps I reached the back window. Outside there was a big tree almost brushing the window. I kicked out the window sash and simply jumped into the tree. It was the only thing to be done. Luckily I got my arm over a limb, which sagged with us and dropped us to the ground. I clambered to my feet and ran, with the girl still hanging absolutely limp and helpless over my shoulder. I went straight for the river with the intention of jumping in. The heat was something deadly. It had driven away the men who had been filling their buckets at the river.

"Just as I staggered down the river bank I saw a skiff. Some one had probably rowed across the river to the fire, for the boat was not fastened. I dropped the girl into the boat and gave it a strong push out into the current, and in a few seconds we were floating down stream and were safe."

"She had the canary, I suppose," said the lightning dentist.

"Oh, yes. She was in a dead faint, but she hadn't let go of the cage. As soon as I recovered my breath and wet my clothes in two or three places where they were on fire I splashed water in the girl's face and she recovered consciousness, but she was so flustered and excited that she didn't know where she was or remember what had happened.

"We could look up the river and see the burning house. It made a huge blaze and threw a bright glare across the river. I remember the peculiar effect of this glare on the windows of the houses across the river. It caused them to glow as if the houses were filled with live flames. The girl was so frightened that she thought all the houses were afire.

"When I got ready to row back I discovered that I hadn't any oars. The current was swift and we were drifting rapidly, so I pulled out a seat board and used it as a rudder, and in a few minutes I made a landing near a house occupied by a Mr. Wesley. Miss Jaynes was still so weak and nervous that she could hardly walk, but I assisted her to this house and aroused the inmates. They would hardly believe my story at first, but they could see the burning house up the river, and they recognized Miss Jaynes as soon as the lights were brought.

"The woman of the house was very kind. She cared for the young lady tenderly for about two hours and had one of the boys drive us back to Crosbyville. Now, in the general excitement we had forgotten that the people in Crosbyville had no reason to believe that we had escaped from the burning house. Miss Jaynes said several times: 'I suppose father is wondering where I am,' but she had no idea that he and all the others were convinced that we had perished in the flames. However, you couldn't blame them for thinking so. The window from which I had leaped was well hidden by trees, and there was no one at the river bank when we leaped into the boat. We learned afterward that the men had pulled down the burning veranda and had planted a ladder at the front window where we had been seen. The blaze was so fierce that they had been driven back.

"Every one supposed, of course, that we were lost; so you can imagine what happened when we drove up in front of the ruins about seven o'clock in the morning. They were already searching for our bodies. Yes, sir; they thought we were ghosts. As soon as I explained to them how we got away you never heard such cheering in your life. They lifted Miss Jaynes out of the wagon and took her over to a neighboring house, to which the captain had been taken. He had been almost wild with grief. Those who went over to the house say it was one of the most affecting meetings that could be imagined. First he wept like a baby and then he jumped up and laughed like a boy and said he didn't care for the loss of his buildings so long as his daughter was safe. I suppose his daughter must have given him a very favorable account of my efforts in her behalf, for presently he came out of the house and walked up to where I was standing and said: 'Mr. Horne, you have done me the greatest service that one man can do another. All that I have is at your command now and forever. I once did you an injustice. You have repaid me. Will you take the hand of a man who honestly admits himself beaten and humiliated?' I said to him: 'Captain, you are a brave and gallant man, but you were mistaken for once. Let us say no more about the misunderstandings of the past.' We shook hands, and from that day forward we were friends. He was a man of passions and prejudices, but if he came to know you and like you he was the truest friend a man ever had."

"There's only one thing needed to make that a good story," suggested the dentist. "You ought to say that you married the captain's daughter."

"I am not going to sacrifice truth in order to make a fancy romance," replied "Doc."—Chicago Record.

There is nothing in the world so pitiful as a neglected baby. There is no sight so sad as that of a helpless infant denied its birthright, a mother's loving care. Thousands of mothers neglect their children because of ill-health. No woman can properly perform a mother's duty who is constantly suffering from sickness, whose system is debilitated and wrecked by the awful drains due to the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women. The mother who suffers from the listlessness, lassitude and despondency due to these troubles is pretty sure to neglect her children and her home.

This lamentable state of affairs is easily remedied if the proper measures are taken. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all the many forms of weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine. It promptly stops all weakening drains, invigorates the various organs and infuses new life and vigor into the sufferer's whole body. A happy home and a tidy and well-cared for baby is the result, for no healthy woman will wilfully neglect her child. Many a woman is blamed for negligence and heartlessness when she is simply too ill to care for anything but death. If you want to know all about the "Favorite Prescription" address Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. It is sold by all druggists.

Foul breath, dull eyes, listlessness, sallowness and pimples. A nice combination to avoid or get rid of. All are due to constipation, and constipation is promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not a temporary palliative, but a permanent cure. Many so-called constipation remedies must be continued forever, once they are started. The "Pellets" cure permanently. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

The Great Railway Detective Tells What Dr. Miles' Remedies Have Done For Himself and Wife.

DETECTIVE work requires constant vigilance, steady nerves, a clear head and active brain. "A year ago," writes Capt. Duffey, of 631 Orchard St., Toledo, Ohio, "I overworked myself, was in such a condition sleep was impossible. I was so nervous I could not lie in bed; my arms and limbs twitched and my system seemed completely exhausted. I began using Dr. Miles' Nervine and the fourth bottle restored me to health. Mrs. Duffey had suffered for eighteen years with heart disease, had tried every remedy without avail until she took Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure two years ago. For the past year she has been free from the trouble."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Restores Health

Faith in Dreams.

An English general and his wife resident in Ireland were constantly pestered by a beggar woman to whom they had been very charitable. One morning at the usual hour when the lady was getting into her carriage the old woman appeared and began:

"Agh, my lady, success to yer ladyship, and success to your honor's honor this morning, of all the days of the year; for, sure, didn't I drame last night that yer ladyship gave me a pound of tay and yer honor gave me a pound of tobacco!"

"But, my good woman," said the general, "do you not know that dreams always go by the rule of contrary?"

"Do they so, plase yer honor?" rejoined the old woman. "Then it must be yer honor that will give me the tay and her ladyship that will give me the tobacco."—Tit-Bits.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Agricultural Society's 57th Annual Exhibition.

FINE DISPLAYS ASSURED.

Arrangements of Grounds and Locations of Tents and Buildings.

Some of the Novel and Attractive Features of the Exhibition—The Women's Department Full of Interesting Exhibits—Bicycle Races and Speed Contests—Entries in the Several Events—The Traction Company's Schedule—Officers of the Society and the Men and Women Who in Various Departments Are Working for the Fair's Success.

The fifty-seventh annual exhibition of the Orange County Agricultural Society will open in this city, to-morrow. For the first time in its history the society holds its fair on its own grounds. They are finely located and most attractively and conveniently arranged. They are easy of access. Trolley cars running at frequent intervals will take you to the entrance of the grounds for five cents and buses will probably be run via Wickham and Wisner avenues.

AT THE GROUNDS.

Just as one enters the grounds the bicycle checking racks are to be found.

On the left of the entrance is the W. C. T. U.'s attractive little building. It is trimmed within with golden rod and is particularly homelike. Next comes newspaper row and several city and county papers have quarters here. The ARGUS and MERURY tent will always be open to its friends: anyone seeking information regarding the fair, its exhibits or events will find some one here who can give the desired information.

Just below newspaper row is the horticultural hall. It formerly did duty as a school exhibit building. To-day carpenters have been making the final alterations and it will be ready for exhibitors to-morrow morning.

THE MAIN EXHIBITION HALL.

In the main exhibition building, a spacious and roomy structure, the greatest display of energy was to be seen, to-day. Ladies were busily engaged in making ready the booths and counters where domestic exhibits are to be made.

This building has been partitioned off into three rooms extending the whole length of the structure.

The western room contains the exhibits of several well known, enterprising business firms. A complete list of all these will be given to-morrow.

The centre room will be devoted to the display of domestic and fancy goods. There will be an interesting display of pictures here, and what is particularly the delight of the ladies of to-day—a liberal display of superbly decorated china, the work of well known ladies of this city and other places in the county. These exhibits will take up the whole of the centre room. A large number of ladies were on hand all day, to-day, covering the counters with varied colored cloth. Mrs. B. B. Williams, the superintendent of this department, and her corps of assistants, were on hand early and devoted the entire day to arranging the large and varied exhibit. This department will be one of the most interesting features of the fair.

In the third room in this building will be found another especially attractive display by local merchants. Nearly the full corps of employes from some of the stores were on hand to-day making arrangements. In this room is displayed Jacob Gunther's nice collection of stuffed animals, birds, snakes, heads etc., by all odds the finest ever seen in Orange county. It is in charge of John Wilkin and Louis Roth.

DOGS, POULTRY, HORSES AND CATTLE.

In the rear of the main hall are two commodious buildings for miscellaneous exhibits, two for poultry, one for dogs, and two for horses, each 36x100. In the rear of these, and separated by wide driveways, are covered cattle stanchions for 200 cattle. Further north are the posts for bulls and oxen, and the pens for sheep and pigs. There are also a large number of posts for the horses to, for the use of the public.

OTHER TENTS AND BUILDINGS.

Cutler's eating tent is on the centre street, running east and west, just east of and opposite the main hall, and it is very attractively arranged. It was in full operation to-day, being patronized by many employed about the grounds.

A merry-go-round has been erected just south of the grand stand. Jacobs, the root drinks man, has full use of the bar under the grand stand save a small space where Dr. Barns and N. D. Mills have placed a small cigar stand.

George Jillett's razzle dazzle is in place near the exit from the grounds and just west of the barn. Kinnes candy tent is also near the grand stand on the exit street.

The new band stand is located in the open space at the south of the main building. A new band stand has also been placed beside the judges' stand within the track. Just in front of the main hall is the president's tent, the superintendent's tent and Capt. Goodnies police tent.

OUT ON THE GROUNDS.

Just outside of the grounds are to be found not a few exhibits. They have tried every possible dodge to get inside of the fence, but Supt. Wells has steadily refused to admit them.

Daniel Schmidt and George Jillett have erected a tent near the trolley switch terminal, where liquid refreshments will be served.

Maennerchor Park's bar will also be open during the week.

All day to-day a closed car has been running on the switch between the main line and the fair grounds and has carried many passengers.

Express and delivery wagons with exhibits comprising dogs, chickens, rabbits and such stock have been arriving at the grounds all day. There have been anxious inquiries for superintendents of departments to take charge of these exhibits.

The officials have naturally been pushed to take care of all the exhibits promptly, but good nature has characterized everybody.

A MISSING MAN.

One man is missing. It was hoped that he would come, but he hasn't. He is the fellow who has been running around predicting that the fair would be a failure. It would cause him an attack of nervous prostration if he would just see what has been done to-day and look over the grounds to-morrow about 2 o'clock.

BUSY OFFICIALS.

Supt. Wells and his assistant, C. L. Elwood, have been very busy, to-day, and when Secretary Morrison drove into the grounds at 11 o'clock he, too, showed wonderful activity.

Such a scene of rushing plumbers, carpenters, laborers, as that of this morning has aroused deep interest in the fair. Many who had taken little or no interest in the fair, caught the spirit, this morning, at the fair ground.

Not a few have been heard to say that next season the entry list will be doubled. The fair officials are well pleased with the outlook.

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME.

To-morrow's programme is as follows:

7 to 12 a. m.—Placing entries.
1:30 p. m.—Band concert.
2 p. m.—Bicycle races.

The Pioneer band will be on duty until 6 p. m.

The exhibition will be in its completeness at noon, and visitors may depend upon seeing a show well worth their money.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

In accordance with a pleasant custom, which was inaugurated many years ago, and which has proved very popular, Wednesday, the second day of the fair, will be Children's Day when children attending public, parochial or private schools will be admitted free, if accompanied by their teachers, or if not accompanied by their teachers, when supplied with certificates of school membership, signed by their teachers. Blank certificates may be obtained on application to the secretary. If Wednesday proves stormy, third day of the fair will be Children's Day.

TROLLEY SERVICE TO THE GROUNDS.

The Middletown—Goshen Traction Company announces the following running schedule for the four days of the fair:

Beginning at nine o'clock, to-morrow morning, all cars on the Asylum and North End lines will run direct to the fair grounds and all passengers for Goshen will be transferred at the fair grounds' switch.

Cars from Goshen will run direct to the fair grounds and passengers for Middletown will be transferred at the switch.

One car will be run on the Academy avenue branch, transferring passengers in either direction at Benton avenue.

Special cars will meet all Erie and O. and W. trains.

Special tickets from Goshen will be sold for fifteen cents for the round trip and will be on sale at Dusenberry's trolley store at Goshen.

The cars will be run as frequently as possible. Starters will be stationed at the fair grounds, Railroad avenue and Franklin Square and the starting will be done by telephone to avoid confusion. By this system it is thought that a ten minute schedule can be successfully operated.

THE BICYCLE RACES.

The first day of the fair, Tuesday, will be Wheelmen's Day. There will be a bicycle parade in which all wheelmen and wheelwomen are invited to participate to be followed by races sanctioned by the L. A. W. and held under its rules. Liberal prizes have been offered and the following fine list of entries insures interesting and exciting contests:

The bicycle races are in charge of the following local committee: C. L. Swezy, Geo. M. Millspaugh, Charles Higham, A. C. N. Thompson and Geo. G. Otis.

THE SPEED PREMIUMS.

The society has taken an entirely new departure and for the first time in a score of years offers premiums for speed contests. This is done to encourage the breeding and development of fast horses and at the same time provide amusement for the crowds expected at the fair. The programme for the races and the entries follow:
